I've attached a document called Member Certifications to this email. It lists the DPSST certs according to Fire IRIS. Please take a look at it and let me know if you think it's not correct. Also included are your medical certs according to OHA. I know that some of you have recently completed EMR training through Stayton and aren't showing up on the OHA website so there may be some work that you need to complete in order to get your certification. Going forward, I'm going to try and keep this up to date and posted for your reference.

Bill Johnson went over Target Solutions (Vector Solutions). This is a training website that has been around for a while but we haven't focused on it much. We're going to start using it more to help assign tasks and sign off tasks. For those who are starting their driver's training, it's an easy way to log hours, sign-offs, and will walk you through the driver's training program in an orderly fashion. The program has a "My Credentials" page that will show what credentials the district has on file for you. It's also a good way to track your continuing education hours for EMT/EMR. The web address is app.targetsolutions.com/jeffersonfire. A link has also been added to the member's side of the website and looks like the image below. Your user name is your email address. If you can't remember your password, there is a link to reset it on the sign in page. Also remember that the password to get to the member's side of the website is ScioFire1888.

Lieutenant Riedel has posted QR codes in various locations around the station. If you have a uniform or PPE need, use the QR code to submit your request. This will also be added to the member's side of the website.
